Data Age™ Video Games

For the ATARI® Video Game System and Sears' Tele-Games® Video Arcade™

Data Age, Inc., is not related to Atari, Inc., or to Sears, Roebuck and Co.

When you put a Data Age™ Video Game into your ATARI® Video Game System or your Sears Tele-Games® Video Arcade,™ you're opening up a whole new world of challenging experience.

It is a world of intergalactic exploration... a world of adventure on the high seas... a world in which only the strong survive.

We've got action packed thrills that pit you against a race of intelligent Superbugs. And tests of courage on an under-sea ledge. You'll fight mid-space battles with evil warriors from the Megalon Star System, elude deadly snakes in an ancient jungle fortress, and find yourself trapped in a Time/Space Warp that could leave you powerless.

This is fun you'd better take seriously!

SSSNAKE™

You are a daring big game hunter who has stumbled into the Amazon's legendary "land that time forgot!" But the game being hunted is you—by Pterodactyls, Trachodons, and an endless stream of carnivorous (and very hungry) prehistoric creatures. You find refuge in an ancient, abandoned fortress. But for how long? And can you cut the deadly snakes that penetrate your jungle hiding place down to size? Watch out or you may get wrapped up in this one!

BUGS™

You have been sent to explore an alien planet that harbors hidden life—a race of intelligent Superbugs that live in massive, subterranean hives. Will your Ultrasonic Weapon destroy them before they walk all over you? Will genetically-engineered Super-Drones penetrate all your defenses? This is one creepy situation—but don't let it bug you!

WARPLOCK™

At the edge of the galaxy, on the fringes of hyperspace and hypertime, your space craft is trapped in a bizarre Space/Time Warp that could immobilize you! Against a rich star field that stretches into infinity, you do battle with a band of space pirates bent on destroying you and your crew. Fortunately, your Tachyon Launcher is still operational. Even so, to get out of this one you'll need skills that are out of this world!

ENCOUNTER AT L-5™

Beyond the orbit of the moon, a defenseless space colony is under heavy attack from the ruthless Megalytes. The evil ones from the Megalon Star System are out to wipe the peace-loving L-5 colonists from the galaxy. Will your antimatter ammunition prove a match for the formidable Megalyte Particle Beams? Can you blast these invaders out of orbit? We find it hard to call this a game. . . .

AIRLOCK™

You are captain of a disabled nuclear submarine that has come to rest dangerously close to a gaping hole in the ocean's floor. Your ship is rocked by eerie currents from a source deeper than any living thing has ever been. You've begun to take on water in the vessel's lower levels. With time running out, you'll have to think fast to retrieve the keys that will set you free. And it will take all your physical strength to work your way around the torpedos that have come loose from their bays. With this one you're on your own—sink or swim!

At Data Age, we've got a whole new world of fun and challenge that ranges from deep under the earth's seas to the fringes of the galaxy and beyond.

When it comes to video adventure, it's a brand new game.

Join us if you dare.

Up to now, you've had it easy.
